President Trump on Sunday revealed he wanted to run for president in 2012, saying he gave up the idea after former professional wrestler Hulk Hogan won the primaries over him. "A lot of people wanted to run for the 2012 race," Trump said during an interview with Fox News' Chris Wallace. "I was going to run, and I had some very good meetings. I was speaking to some people, they said, 'Well, Chris is a nice guy, but you're not a good candidate.' ... I thought about it, but I didn't want to do it. I figured it was easier to let somebody else run." Trump added: "They didn't know how to process a guy with a massive ego." Hogan, who runs the wrestling and media company World Wrestling Entertainment, has been embroiled in controversy after his friend, radio shock jock Bubba the Love Sponge (real name Todd Clem) posted a sex tape online. The former Mr. Universe revealed in a Monday morning video on his YouTube channel that the tape was shot in 2005, which The New York Times reported was the first time he had come forward. "My friend Todd got caught by a sex tape, well he's not the only one," Hogan says in the video. "I've got one and there's thousands of them, and here's what's really important -- one of my friends filmed it and gave it to me because he didn't want it on the Internet." "So, instead of me becoming a victim, I'm turning it around and making them all victims." Hogan also said in the video that he had been involved with a number b7e8fdf5c8

Nick Lachey Chat Where are you calling from? I'm in Michigan, in the Kenosha-Wit-Tam area. What do you do for fun? I love playing the piano, and I like to take time for "relaxation," which seems to have become the new adverb. I enjoy watching movies and cooking for my family. What are you looking for? I've been trying to learn the guitar, but I just haven't been "meeting with the instructor." My eHarmony Success Story The first time I ever tried online dating was for my best friend's wedding in 1999, and I soon realized that if I wanted a date, I'd have to bring it to the party. I didn't want to play marriage roulette, so I looked for other online options. I found eHarmony in a "For You" e-mail, and though I knew I'd never have a chance with someone I'd just met, I decided to give it a try. In December 1999, I signed up for a free membership. I liked that I'd be able to chat, browse profiles, and have a "first date" before the holidays. I filled in my profile, and I was in the "Friends" system! It took me three months of nagging to even get a response. But, a year later, at the party, I finally met the man I'd been chatting with! For our first date, we hung out at a bar, where we had a great time, and we went to a coffeehouse that did brunch. We dated for five years, and now we're married. We've lived in a few states (we've been in the Chicago area for several years) and now have a family. We met because of eHarmony. Q: Rails ActiveRecord
